GREAT LAKES USA

There are so many wonderful, exciting possibilities when it comes to planning a trip to the States that just making up your mind where to go can be a problem. City life or outdoor adventures? Fascinating history or shoppertunities galore? Stunning scenery or fabulous food?

Think no more. The Great Lakes have the answer because the region has them all.

Do you just love big cities? Then check out Chicago in Illinois, with its towering skyscrapers, vast shores bordering Lake Michigan and bustling foodie scene. Or detour to Michigan's Detroit for its unique designer boutiques, legendary music scene and auto background. Maybe Philadelphia in Pennsylvania is more to your liking with its riveting history, numerous museums and colourful murals.

Or do small towns take your fancy? Then pop up to Michigan's Upper Peninsula to Mackinac Island, where cars are not allowed. Or take a trip to Butler County in Pennsylvania for a glimpse of small-town America.

Desperate to hit the open road? Illinois' Heritage Corridor is the home of the first 100 miles of the legendary Route 66; the 154-mile North Shore Scenic Drive in Minnesota is a spectacular outing; and the Great River Road, which is bordered by the Mississippi, winds its way through historic towns and State and National Parks of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois.

NAVY PIER,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Outdoor opportunities abound in the Great Lakes, from hiking, biking, boating and fishing to golfing, kayaking, caving and snowmobiling. Whatever your sport or pastime, it's there for the taking.

With more than 10,000 inland lakes in each of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin alone, it's easy to see why the region is called the Great Lakes. And with the lakes come some stunning scenery – cascading waterfalls, awe-inspiring cliffs, seemingly never-ending forests, and a National Park (Voyageurs in Minnesota) where canoeing is the recommended form of transport.

When it comes to top-class attractions, you're spoiled for choice in the Great Lakes. Biker buffs will just love Wisconsin's Harley-Davidson Museum in Milwaukee, Ohio's Rock & Roll Hall of Fame and Museum in Cleveland is a must visit for rock and pop lovers, and the theme parks of Cedar Point in Sandusky and Kings Island near Cincinnati, both in Ohio, will keep thrill-seekers happy.

And if you fancy a beer after a hectic days of touring or roller-coaster riding, where better to try some of America's excellent craft beers than either Michigan's Grand Rapids, nicknamed Beer City USA and voted the Craft Beverage Capital of the United States by USA Today, or Milwaukee in Wisconsin, which has a history of around 200 years of brewing through famous names such as Miller, Pabst and Schlitz.

But if shopping for stylish fashion and browsing superb department stores clothes is more to your liking, Chicago's Magnificent Mile, with over 450 retailers along Michigan Avenue, hits the spot. Want to shop, have some fun and games, and sample some great food as well? Then the giant Mall of America in Minnesota is the place for you, with its more-than 520 stores, theme park and a vast array of restaurants to choose from.

Not far from the Mall, Prince's Paisley Park home and studio is a must for any music fans, while Detroit's Motown Museum at Hitsville USA enables Motown fans to wallow in nostalgia.

So, whatever way you look at it, a visit to the Great Lakes is a Great Idea.

BIG CITIES AND BREATHTAKING SCENERY

Want to get to know the real America? Then Illinois is the place for you. With big cities and small towns, magnificent architecture and breathtaking scenery, Illinois has it all.

Drink in panoramic views from Chicago's skyscrapers, cycle the banks of Lake Michigan, enjoy an outdoor concert in Millennium Park, or cruise the Chicago River.

Music aficionados will love Chicago's Jazz and Blues, culture buffs will enjoy countless museums and theaters, and the Magnificent Mile is shopper heaven.

For architecture, Illinois' Frank Lloyd Wright Trail will guide you through 13 public buildings around the state, including two UNESCO Heritage Sites. Explore Starved Rock State Park for thundering waterfalls and awe-inspiring bluffs, while the Shawnee National Forest's Garden of the Gods offers spectacular views of towering sandstone cliffs.

The legendary Route 66 starts in Chicago and stretches for 300 miles within Illinois. Make plans to stop at attractions like the many Muffler Men, historic diners like Cozy Dog, and quirky tourist stops, like Pink Elephant Mall.

Stay on Route 66 through the state capital of Springfield and visit the interactive Abraham Lincoln Presidential Museum. And outside The Lincoln Tomb, guests pay tribute by rubbing the nose on Abraham Lincoln's statue. For scenic views, The Great River Road runs along the Mississippi River and through charming towns such as Galena and Alton.

TWO PENINSULAS OF FRESH EXPERIENCES

They love their statistics in Michigan ... and it's no wonder why. Known as the Great Lakes State, it has 11,000 inland lakes, 36,000 miles of rivers and streams, 3,200 miles of shoreline and 13,400 miles of state designated trails. There are also more than 100 state parks, five national parks, 1,000 campgrounds and RV parks, at more than 650 public golf courses and more than 120 lighthouses.

Split into two peninsulas – the Upper Peninsula, where outdoor adventures abound, and Lower Peninsula, which has its own natural beauty as well as the bustling, revitalised city of Detroit – Michigan offers scenic routes, open roads and city adventures that both leap back in time and gaze into the future. Fans of the Great Outdoors will love the Lower Peninsula's 35-mile-long Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore, called the Most Beautiful Place in America by viewers Good Morning America, or the Upper Peninsula's 50,000-acre Tahquamenon Falls State Park, where the impressive Upper Falls have a drop of 50 feet.

Further south, Lansing, the state capital, is located on the banks of the picturesque Grand River, while Grand Rapids, named Beer City USA, was voted Best Beer City by USA Today Readers. Picturesque Traverse City, a big favourite with visitors, is a multi-award-winning destination, while Mackinac Island, located between the two peninsulas, known as the jewel of the Great Lakes does not allow any cars on the island.

DRIVING INTO DREAMS

Minnesota may be known as the Land of 10,000 Lakes (there are actually nearer 12,000), but while those lakes are a major draw for visitors, so too are the state's great drives, spectacular scenery, charming river towns and lively cities.

Out of Duluth, the 154-mile North Shore Scenic Drive is one of Minnesota's spectacular routes, with its secluded beaches, lush forests, small shoreline towns and scenic lighthouses.

In Voyageurs National Park, boating is the recommended form of transport to reach more than 200 campsites on the park's four lakes, while the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness has more than 1,200 miles of canoe routes, 11 hiking trails and around 2,000 designated campsites.

And the cities of Minneapolis and Saint Paul – the Twin Cities – are bustling centres of the arts and music, wineries and craft breweries, and award-winning restaurants.

Minneapolis was where rock legend Prince was born and Paisley Park, his home and recording studio, close to the city, is open to the public.

Bob Dylan was also born in Minnesota, in Duluth, where Bob Dylan Way runs for almost two miles through the city's downtown area. Giant murals of Dylan and Prince can also be seen in Minneapolis.

Bloomington, close to the Twin Cities, is the location of the Mall of America, the country's biggest indoor shopping centre, pulling in 32 million visitors a year.

ROCKING INTO HISTORY

The phrase 'rock 'n' roll', so the story goes, was first used by Cleveland radio DJ Alan Freed in 1951, so it's only natural that the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame is based in ... Cleveland.

Opened in 1995, it has inducted scores of world-famous names, from David Bowie, Eric Clapton and Prince to Madonna, Whitney Houston and Carole King. A music-lover's delight, it has the largest collection of rock artefacts in the world.

Columbus, the state capital, was founded in 1812 and subsequently was settled by German immigrants. As a result, the German Village historic area is a target for visitors, with its small brick homes and unique shops, while the Short North Arts District and Columbus Museum of Art should also be on your to-do list.

Ohio's other major city, Cincinnati, continues the German theme with its historic Over-the-Rhine area, which offers a host of well-preserved 19th-century buildings as well as craft breweries and gastropubs.

Ohio has two major theme parks – Cedar Point in Sandusky, with 71 rides, and Kings Island, near Cincinnati, which has been running since 1972 – but for a more relaxing look at life, Hocking Hills State Park offers cascading waterfalls, awe-inspiring cliffs and seemingly never-ending forests.

For sports fans, Canton, where the NFL was born, is the home of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

WISCONSIN

UNIQUE & UNEXPECTED

Wonder-filled Wisconsin is surprising and adventurous, with picturesque road trips to take, endless coastlines and state parks to explore and charming and friendly small towns to visit.

The shores of Lake Michigan and the peninsula of Door County offers hundreds of miles of freshwater coastline, beaches galore like Kohler Andrae State Park perfect for swimming and surfing, landmark lighthouses and charming harbor-side towns.

For a real one-of-a-kind trip, visitors should head to the Apostle Islands National Lakeshore off the northern-most tip of the state. Kayak through ancient sea caves and visit Frog Bay Tribal National Park.

Beyond the Great Outdoors, Wisconsin's lively cities offer even more unique experiences. Milwaukee, the state's largest city, is the location of the fascinating Harley-Davidson Museum, where visitors are invited to take a ride through the bike's history as well as build their own dream machine.

Another must-visit on the shores of Lake Michigan is the Milwaukee Art Museum with its signature 217-foot wings, the Burke Brise Soleil, that open and close daily, filling the museum with light. Tour more impressive architecture by following the Frank Lloyd Wright Trail across southern Wisconsin.

Golfers should also take notice of Wisconsin—with 10 courses ranking among the nation's top 100 public courses, as ranked by Golf Digest, (more than any other state) and all of them under a three-hour drive from Milwaukee.

PENNSYLVANIA

PAST (AND PRESENT) PERFECT

History hits the spot in Pennsylvania – but city experiences, outdoor adventures and different lifestyles are there for the taking too.

In Philadelphia – the USA's first World Heritage City – the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776 and the USA was born. The Liberty Bell is said to have been rung when that declaration was made, and the Betsy Ross House is where she created the American flag.

A great place for walking, Philadelphia has museums galore, 4,000 highly-colourful murals to discover, and more than 100 recreation areas to explore in 'America's Garden Capital'.

Gettysburg, site of one of the most-famous Civil War battles, is also a must-visit for history buffs, as are Harrisburg, with its National Civil War Museum, and Valley Forge National Historical Park outside of Philadelphia.

Pittsburgh is a big city with small-town charm that welcomes visitors. Check out the Andy Warhol Museum and Carnegie Science Center and quench that thirst with a craft beer or two at one of the 75 breweries in the area.

Moving into the countryside, outdoor enthusiasts can hike a section of the Appalachian Trail – the U.S.'s longest hiking-only path – check out Cook Forest, where some of the trees are up to 350 years old. Nearby visitors can see more than 1,400 free roaming elk. Explore Amish communities to find out about their way of life in Lancaster County, unchanged for 300 years.

BUTLER COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

HISTORY AND HARMONY

Butler County, only 25 miles from big-city life in Pittsburgh, gives a fascinating glimpse into small-town America, the country's history and its German background. Founded in 1800, the County is named after General Richard Butler, a colonial officer in the American Revolution. Two of the towns with German links are Harmony, established in 1804 by a group of Lutherans seeking religious freedom, and Saxonburg, which has the architectural charm of a quaint German hamlet. Thirsty visitors can head out on the Butler County Beer Circuit, a listing of the unique breweries in the area.
